About this qualification

The Level 3 Applied General Award in Health and Social Care is aimed at post-16-year-olds who are studying a key stage 5 curriculum and have an interest in the health and social care sectors. The Award has been designed to meet the entry requirements for higher education, in combination with A levels and other Level 3 qualifications.

This qualification aims to:

- focus on the applied study of health and social care
- offer breadth and depth of study, incorporating a significant core of knowledge and theoretical content with broad-ranging applicability
- provide opportunities to acquire a number of practical skills

The objectives of this qualification are to help learners to:

- progress to further and higher education
- develop new practical skills in health and social care
- become more familiar with legislation relevant to health and social care
- develop their knowledge of health and social care and its underpinning theories

Qualification structure

To be awarded the Level 3 Applied General Award in Health and Social Care, learners must achieve a minimum of a Pass in the 2 mandatory units and the external Synoptic Assessment.

Mandatory units

01 Functions of health and social care
