

Purpose statement

NCFE Level 2 Award in Interactive Media
QN: 603/0852/7

Who is this qualification for?

Interactive media is the integration of digital media including combinations of electronic text, graphics, moving images, and sound, into a structured digital computerised environment that allows people to interact with the data for appropriate purposes.

Interactive Media should not be confused with Art and Design, Product Design or Graphic Design. It is distinct from these subjects and should be treated as so.

The NCFE Level 2 Awards in Interactive Media complements GCSE qualifications. It is aimed at 14-16 year olds studying Key Stage 4 curriculum who are interested in any aspect of Interactive Media, including sourcing ideas and design. It is equivalent to GCSE grades 8.5-4.

The qualification focuses on an applied study of the Interactive Media sector and learners will gain a broad understanding and knowledge of working in the sector.

This qualification has been designed to sit alongside the requirements of core GCSE subjects and is appropriate for learners who are motivated and challenged by learning through hands-on experiences and through content which is concrete and related directly to those experiences.

This Level 2 qualification is appropriate for learners who are looking to develop a significant core of knowledge and understanding in interactive media, and an understanding of how to apply their learning to the interactive media sector. This qualification has overlapping content with the Level 1 qualification (603/0851/5). This is not intended as progression from the Level 1 qualification.

What will the learner study as part of this qualification?

This qualification shows learners how to:

- identify and experiment with interactive media products, materials, techniques and processes
- explore the interactive media industry
- work to interactive media briefs, refining, developing and selecting ideas
- form a interactive media portfolio.

What knowledge and skills will the learner develop as part of this qualification and how might these be of use and value in further studies?

Learners will develop skills and knowledge:

- in using digital technology safely and competently when responding to a design brief
- when experimenting with materials and techniques
- in adapting their own ideas and responding to feedback
- in evaluating their own work
- in literacy, numeracy and ICT
- that are essential for the modern workplace, such as team working; presentation skills; independent working; working to deadlines; efficient use of resources.

Successful completion of these qualifications will fulfil the entry requirements for relevant academic and vocational study post-16.

The knowledge and skills gained will provide a secure foundation for careers in the interactive media industry.

Which subjects will complement this course?

- Computing or IT User Skills
- Graphic Design
- Creative Media.

However, this list is not exhaustive and a range of other subject areas may also be appropriate.

What could this qualification lead to?

Learners who achieve this V Cert qualification could progress onto Level 3 qualifications and A Levels, such as:

- NCFE Level 3 Applied General Certificate in Art and Design
- NCFE Level 3 Certificate in Creative Craft
- NCFE Level 3 Certificate in Interactive Media
- other Level 3 qualifications (including Advanced GCSE) in creative and media related subjects.
